It's Your Future

You're Invited to Choose How Our Region Grows

It's time to set a new direction. From January 15-February 29, Imagine Greater Tucson (IGT) needs you to decide how our values and choices shape the region's future. Make your voice heard!

Thousands of locals have already participated in the IGT process. Together, we've discovered our shared values and imagined alternatives to past development patterns. From over 100 collaboratively produced maps for the future, there are now four options that will become ONE shared vision. Now is your chance to influence this community vision for growth and inform long-range planning in our region.

Using keypad polling technology, participants of this half-hour workshop will share views on a preferred future for the Greater Tucson Region, how it should grow, and what is important to consider regarding land use.
