

Camino de Mañana, Linda Vista Boulevard to Tangerine Road

Project Fact Sheet March 2010

Project Overview:

The northern connection is at the intersection of Dove Mountain Boulevard and Tangerine Road. The need for the roadway will be crucial to relieve traffic congestion in the Dove Mountain area, the Town of Marana, and the northwest area of metropolitan Tucson. Once the I-10 Traffic Interchange at Twin Peaks/Linda Vista is constructed, the Camino de Mañana arterial corridor will be necessary to maintain local and regional traffic flows for the rapidly growing area.

Where:

From Linda Vista Blvd. to Tangerine Road. This project will connect with the Twin Peaks Interchange and Rd/Bridge projects.

The benefits of the new alignment include:

- Providing better connectivity between Tangerine Road and the new I-10 Traffic Interchange at Twin Peaks/Linda Vista.
- Shifting vehicular traffic from a busy, at-grade railroad crossing on Tangerine Road to a new, safer location with a grade separation from the railroad tracks at the new interchange.
- Decreasing daily traffic on I-10 and Tangerine Road as well as on Cortaro Road.
- Relieving other local north-south roadways such as Oracle Road and Thornydale Road by providing a viable alternate route for northwest area commuters.

How Much:

Planning/Design/Environmental	$1.85 Million
Land Acquisition and Rights of Way	$3.6 Million
Construction & Project Management	$24.9 Million
Water Line Construction	$1.1 Million
Total Project Estimated Cost:	$32 Million
Construction cost expended is $7.5M

Project Partners include: The Regional Transportation Authority, The State of Arizona, and Pima County.

The Town of Marana has sold bonds for the funding of this project along with participation from the above-mentioned Project Partners to construct the Project. The Town has contracted with Borderland Construction Company, Inc. to construct this project.

Time line: 3.3-mile roadway to open by the end of October 2010

